

FAU/IAB-Seminar Macroeconomics and Labor Markets

Summer Term 2026

The Chairs of Macroeconomics (Christian Merkl) and Global Governance and International Trade (Christoph Moser) at FAU and the Macroeconomic domain at IAB co-organize a joint seminar series at the intersection of macroeconomics, trade and labor economics. The seminar typically takes place on Tuesdays at noon or 2 pm (German time). A preliminary schedule can be found below. The seminar will take place in hybrid form in summer 2026. If you are a researcher and you are interested to join the talks, please send an e-mail to macrolabor.seminar@gmail.com.

Preliminary Schedule

14 April 2026, noon (Zoom)	Oskari Vähämaa (University of Helsinki) Furloughs, Employment, and Worker Reallocation in Normal Times
28 April 2026, noon (FAU, LG 4.154)	Klaus Wälde (Universität Mainz) How to Make Tax Systems Regressive
12 May 2026, 4 pm (Zoom)	Mathilde Munoz (University of California, Berkeley) The Local and Political Effects of Accessing Foreign Labor Markets
9 June 2026, noon (IAB, E10)	Ahmet Taskin (IAB) Financial Conditions and Employment Decline in German Manufacturing Industry
23 June 2026, noon (IAB, E10)	Anna Zaharieva (Universität Bielefeld) How Did You Find Your Job? Effects of the Job Search Channels on Labor Market Outcomes in Germany
7 July 2026, noon (FAU, LG 4.154)	Philip Jung (Technische Universität Dortmund) tba